

MARCH 18, 2020

The health and safety of Peraton's employees, as well as our external partners and customers, remains Peraton's highest priority.

While we are all continuing to make decisions relative to personnel telework, we recognize this may not be an option for many who are considered "essential personnel" or for whom the personnel's respective employer has not given authorization. As such, Peraton is communicating its expectations to its employees and partners who remain an onsite workforce.

As a valued external partner, we ask that you instruct your personnel not to enter a Peraton or customer facility if he or she is sick. Should one of your employees test positive for the COVID-19 virus, it is critical that you report the situation to your Peraton procurement point of contact immediately. Swift notification allows us to assist in containment which may include having personnel in contact with the infected test for the virus, disinfect the facilities more thoroughly, and/or report to a landlord or customer as appropriate.

For your convenience, we have established a website dedicated to Peraton's COVID-19 response and our general guidance to suppliers. Please refer to this website frequently as the pandemic continues to evolve rapidly:

<https://www.peraton.com/covid-19/>

We appreciate your compliance as we collectively endeavor to do our parts to slow, and hopefully stop, the spread of the COVID-19 virus.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Lori Ellis".

Lori Ellis
Vice President and Chief Procurement Officer
Peraton